Creative Spaces 2019

13 – 15 September 2019

Wanting to test the boundaries of landscape design?
How about pushing the accepted 'norms' of garden planting?

Let your green-fingered creativity run riot as we welcome the Creative Spaces planting competition to this year's Harrogate Autumn Flower Show.

Open to designers, landscapers, gardeners, community groups and charities, the competition provides a platform to your message for up to 40,000 visitors in a unique and creative way – even better, we'll provide a start-up budget of £150 to help you begin to realise that hidden horticultural magic!

With over half a century's heritage in promoting practical gardening, this year's Harrogate Autumn Flower Show offers the opportunity to explore horticultural boundaries to an audience of 40,000 people across a national three-day event.

And for those taking part, it couldn't be easier!

We are offering designers, groups and charities the opportunity to promote their message by creating a unique planted space within the heart of this year's autumn show.

Entrants can choose between two sizes of plot - either a 2.4m x 1.2m border or 3.6m x 1.8m bed, raised 0.22m above ground and with a timber edge. Each plot comes with the option of a rear vertical board fence panel to the longer side as backdrop, and all beds are pre-filled.

The rest is up to you – to add to the creative process, we're also offering each entrant £150 to get started on their unique space. So, whether you're new to horticulture or are simply promoting the work of your organisation, there's a chance for everyone.

In addition to all the usual promotional opportunities the national event will bring, each entry will be judged by a selected panel, with awards ranging from Bronze to Premier Gold available.
